Present Amvet Awards

Mrs. Margaret Semmler, publisher of the Semmler Newspapers, assists the Rev. Cecil Koop in presenting Amvet awards during a joint picnic of the Mokena Lions club and St. Mary's Catholic church last Sunday. Presentation of the awards had been postponed due to the heavy storm the previous Sunday.

An Open Letter Joint Picnic of Lions, Holy Name Draws Crowd

Dear Friends and Neighbors of Mokena:

It was indeed unfortunate to have the storm cut short our Mokena Homecoming. However I think after seventeen years we might turn our endeavors to some other method of fund raising. Possibly this Fall Festival Dance is the answer. Some entertaining event must be held each year to raise funds to operate our town park.

For some time I have thought that, for the terrific expenditure coupled with untold hours, donated by almost everyone in the area, the small percentage finally realized, is far too little. I feel the Homecoming, covering three days including Sunday, is not the permanent solution.

Let us give a thought to this fall dance. It will not interfere with the Fireman's spring dance. It will not conflict with the St. Mary's worth-while project. It can be handled with a minimum amount of preparatory work with all groups working together. An event held late in September will not interfere with vacations, as homecoming plans usually does. Weather will be no factor and our Sundays will be free to use as we see fit.

There is no doubt our park has to be supported and the above are just my own opinions. I would like to have comments from others of our community who have worked on the Homecoming in the past years and their suggestions of what can be done.

JOHN R. SCARTH

Frankfort School To Open Sept. 4 Plan Book Sale

The Frankfort public school will open at 9 am. Tuesday, Sept. 4. All children of school age should be present at the all-day session. The book sale will be held at the school from 1:15 pm. to 3:30 pm.

The faculty members are: Miss Viola Lankenau, principal; Leroy Wright, 8th grade; Duard Grace, 7th grade; Irene Van Rheeden, 6th grade; Margaret Robertson, 5th grade; Charlotte Love, 4th grade; Virginia Osamus, 3rd grade; Dorothy Woodman, 2nd grade; Isabelle Harmenting, 1st grade. Robert Taylor will be band director and Tom Olson, choral director.

Some 20 families attended the joint picnic held in the Mokena Community park last Sunday by the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church and the Mokena Lions club.

The people who attended brought their own picnic baskets but two organizations furnished pop and ice cream for everyone present—and this turned out to be a large order because there were many persons who came out later in the afternoon.

Around noon when the picnic was to begin the weather was somewhat threatening and that held down attendance but by the time the ballgame between the Lions and the Holy Name society got underway around 3 p.m. a crowd estimated at more than 300 was on hand. H. J. Wrath, who has been in charge of the summer program at the park, said that the attendance was the largest this year. More about the ball game will be found on the sports page.

There was indication that the joint picnic may become an annual affair.

The Amvets used the occasion to award the prizes it had intended to distribute at the Mokena Homecoming. Because of the storm the final night of the Homecoming celebration no awards were made then. The principal Amvet award, $500 in cash, was presented to Ralph Stahl, of Mokena. The Amvets auxiliary gave away three prizes—an electric frying pan to Mayor John Scarth; a picnic ice chest went to P. L. Joyce, of Joliet, and H. C. Smith, 266 Front St., Mokena, received a picnic grill.

Car, Credentials of Air Pilot Stolen

A 1955 Chevrolet sedan, blue in color, was stolen sometime Tuesday night or yesterday morning from the rear yard of the David Tyler home on U. S. 30 near Frankfort. Tyler, 25, a pilot for Capital Airlines, hopes for speedy recovery of the car—not only as a means of getting him to and from his job—because it contained what is called a "flight bag" and this bag in turn contained all his credentials and papers which he must have if he is to fly. Until he gets these papers or dupli-

Engineer Exhibits Drawings Covering Streets and Sewers

Plans for a sewer system and sewage treatment plant for the village of Frankfort were revived at the meeting of the council Monday night.

The Mulford Engineering Co., of Chicago Heights, which was employed several years ago to make a survey of the sanitary needs of the village, has been instructed to bring its findings up to date by Oct. 15.

Mayor George Sangmeister said that the board was preparing to seek federal aid on the sewage treatment plant phase of the proposed project.

He pointed out that the Illinois Municipal League has just released a bulletin calling attention to a new law which was signed by President Eisenhower July 9, which would allow communities to apply for a grant of up to 30 percent of the cost of a sewage treatment project.

The survey made in Frankfort was financed thru federal government aid. The government advanced $2,700 to the village to pay for an engineering survey. The money is to be repaid if and when the plans are put into use. The new law pertaining to contributions for sewage treatment plans has nothing to do with the grants given for preliminary plans and surveys.

Revision of the Frankfort plans will cost approximately $600 more. Mayor Sangmeister was informed by the engineering firm.

Frankfort is one of the communities that has depended upon septic tanks for disposal of sanitary waste. The state department of public health is cracking down on such villages, particularly those whose wastes have been finding their way into Hickory creek.

Joliet has launched a project to eliminate sewage in Hickory creek within its own boundaries and has been assured by the state water board that action will be taken to stop pollution of the stream from outlying sections and communities.

Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox will be required to put in sewers and sewage treatment plants, it was said.

Mokena is and Frankfort both have preliminary plans for a sewer system and treatment plants. New Lenox is awaiting word on its application for a grant to finance a survey of its needs preparatory to going before the public with a request for authorization of bonds to finance the improvements.

Under the act that became a federal law last month, the government will appropriate $50,000,000 a year for the next 10 years for construction grants.

The grants are to be made available to the states, one-half on the basis of the state's population and one-half on the basis of the per capita income of the state, thus giving less wealthy states more aid.

In determining the eligibility of a project for federal grants the surgeon general is required to consider various points. Officials of New Lenox, Frankfort and Mokena say that under these provisions these communities would qualify as they are included in a comprehensive state water pollution control program. Public necessity is another important factor.

The federal grants cannot be used to pay for the sewer mains.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mayor George Sangmeister of Frankfort and his son George, Jr., attended the Democratic convention at Chicago last Friday night and heard at first hand the acceptance speeches of the party's nominees for president and vice president, Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Plan Dance for Sept. 29 to Make Up Losses at Homecoming

A homecoming fall festival dance will be held at the Mokena VFW hall on Wolf road on Saturday night, Sept. 29.

The affair is sponsored by the joint operating committee of Lions club and Civic Association members that was in charge of the annual Mokena Homecoming this year.

A violent storm brought the homecoming to a sudden—and the committee fears—and unprofitable end.

To recoup the losses the committee has decided to hold a dance. The primary objective of the Homecoming celebration has been to raise money with which to operate the park for the community.

Tickets for the dance will go on sale soon.

The dance also will serve as a setting for the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Sheila Bennet. Announcement that Miss Bennett had won the Queen contest was made at the conclusion of the Homecoming but her crowning has been postponed until the night of the dance Sept. 29. The prizes that were to have been awarded the last night of the Homecoming also will be given out at the dance.

Install New Light At Drive Entrance To Lincoln-Way

A mercury vapor time lamp, mounted on a 20 foot standard now lights the driveway entrance to the Lincoln-Way high school grounds. The improvement is a gift to the school from the Parent Teachers group.

The driveway leads off U. S. Route 30 and until the new light was installed at night it was quite dark at that point, so much so that it was regarded as dangerous.

Lincoln-Way high is in use most nights during the school year and to make it easier and safer for motorists to turn off and onto the highway the Parent Teacher group purchased a light. The light was installed last week by Frank Goetschel, building superintendent.

ates thereof Tyler will not be able to work, he explained. It would cost him some $200 to have the credentials duplicated. The loss was reported to police, state and county. A car stolen Tuesday evening in Chicago Heights was found abandoned near the Tyler home. Police believe the thief switched cars at that point and probably has abandoned the Tyler car.

Quick Thinking by Woman Bus Driver Averts Accident

Quick thinking by Mrs. Norman Bormet, of Tinley Park, a driver for the Gold Star Line of Frankfort, plus speedy reflexes, averted what could have been a serious accident Monday evening as she was returning to Mokena with a charter load from St. John's Evangelical church.

Members of the Junior league and the church choir were enroute to Mokena from a trip to the Indiana Sand Dunes Park. The bus was traveling west on U. S. 20. A quarter-mile east of the junction with U. S. 45, an automobile transport truck preceding the bus was forced to stop without warning.

To avoid crashing into the rear of the truck, Mrs. Bormet took to the ditch and brought the bus to a halt without incident, except that one of the passengers was shaken up.

Kampe Back From West Coast Vacation

Supervisor William Kampe, of Frankfort township, returned home Monday after a two-week's vacation trip to the west coast.

Mr. Kampe flew to Los Angeles and there transferred to a helicopter to complete his trip to Riverside where his daughter, Mrs. William Kaminsky, resides.

He attended the Will county picnic at Los Angeles, an annual affair, and was surprised to find so many acquaintances there. On his return trip he was joined by his son, Henry Kampe of Joliet, who had been attending a four-day convention of court reporters at Salt Lake City.

The first Bible printed in America was printed in the Indian language.

Planning Group Explains What Zoning Will Do For Tinley Park

(Editor's Note: The following article was prepared by the Tinley Park Planning Commission and is one of a series to be carried in the Tinley Park Times to acquaint the public with the objectives of the plans for the community.)

The proposed new zoning ordinance for Tinley Park sets up districts in which the land use and the amount of yards and open space, and the height of buildings are regulated for the good of the community.

The only way to assure that industry, business, residence, streets, utilities, and public uses such as schools and parks are coordinated in convenient, attractive and healthy relation to each other is to plan for their development before they are built. In other words, adopt a zoning ordinance which will guide future growth.

Protects Property

Regulations of any sort will bring objection from a few individuals who find their private activities curtailed, activities that would not necessarily be for the benefit of the community as a whole. Although these few are quick to raise their voices in objection, the hundreds who receive protection seldom make themselves heard, because this protection seldom of zoning is invisible. When a junk yard is prohibited in a residential area, home owners do not realize how the invisible cloak of zoning is guarding their investment. It is like a vaccination—you do not know how much it helps because you never contract the disease!

Residential areas should be protected from the noise and the congestion of business, industries, and heavy traffic. They need to be safe for children to play; quiet for adults at rest after a busy day; they require air, sun, and green space; easy access to schools, parks, shops, and places of work. These are the needs of neighborhoods. Good zoning provides these needs.

Business and Industry

Business must be easily accessible to both trucker and customer on wheel or foot. Traffic focal points make natural locations for shopping centers. Good zoning today provides off street parking requirements based on the size and type of business establishment. Such requirements benefit both the merchant and the motoring public.

Industry needs flat land with easy access to railroads, highways, and utilities. A common mistake in zoning is to designate any undesirable tracts of land for industrial use. Cities and villages that zone in this manner are forgetting the economic value of industry to the community. Modern industries, even small ones, require room for one story spread out buildings, for off-street loading and parking, and for possible expansion. They need large tracts of flat, well drained land.

Voters Can Register Now

If you are 21 years of age or over, a citizen of the United States and have been a resident of Illinois for a year, of the county 90 days, and your election district 30 days, you are qualified to vote—provided you have registered.

Persons who have changed their name by marriage or otherwise are required to re-register.

Persons who have changed addresses with the county since registering must record the change before they can vote.

Registration must be done at the court house in the office of County Clerk Joseph H. Hartley or with the registration officer in your town. Persons living in or near the village of Frankfort can register with Supervisor William Kampe or Harry P. Low, residents of New Lenox township can register with Ronald Crisman at the Harvey J. Frick Ins. Agency; Mokena residents can register with Harold Cooper at the Cooper-Hostert garage; Green Garden residents can register with County Treasurer Floyd Krapf, who resides in that township and those who live in Homer township can register with Supervisor Barney Welter.

As a matter of fact one is not restricted to registering in the town in which he lives. One can register wherever it is most convenient.

If one wishes to register at Hartley's office in Joliet the hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The last day for registering prior to the general election in November is Oct. 8.

Persons who will be 21 by Nov. 6 and is otherwise qualified may register now.

Persons who just require to have their address changed can take care of this chore either in person or by mail. You can fill in the new address on the back of your registration card, sign it and mail it to the county clerk's office in Joliet. (Families can send in all their cards in the same envelope if they wish.) Or if you prefer you can write a letter or postcard to County Clerk Hartley listing your old and new address.

County Clerk Hartley would appreciate having people register now instead of waiting until the last week.

More Money for Dairy Farmers

Dairy farmers who shipped milk to the Chicago market during July will receive 28 cents a hundred more for their milk than in July, 1955, according to Harry L. Edwards, director of sales for Pure Milk Association. He said also the price to be paid to farmers for July-delivered milk is six cents a hundred more than they received in June.

Milk prices for July were announced this week by the Federal Milk Market Administrator in Chicago.

The Administrator announced a blend price of $3.72 for milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat, delivered to plants in the 70-mile zone. This figures at about eight cents per quart to the farmer in the specified area.

Edwards said July was the fifteenth consecutive month in which the price paid to farmers for their milk was above the corresponding month of the previous year. It also was the fourth consecutive month in which there were substantial gains in farmers' prices over the same months of 1955 due to bargaining achievements by PMA in April. These bargaining gains were incorporated in the Federal Milk Marketing Order for Chicago so that all Order 41 milk producers benefited.

The gains amounted to 23c a hundred for the last half of April or about 11 cents a hundred for the entire month; 41 cents for May; 36 cents for June and 28 cents for July.

The cooperative's sales director added that the Milk Market Administrator's Office has estimated an August blend price of $3.85 at the 70-mile zone. If realized, this price would be eight cents a hundred more than the August, 1955, blend price.

Hot Rodders to Exhibit Work At Special Show

The Road Runners of Joliet, and incorporated club, will sponsor the annual Mid-West rod and custom exhibition this year, to be held at the Hill Top Drive-In Theater, Joliet, on Labor Day from noon until 5 p.m. Admission will be free. Radio Station WJOL will furnish recorded music for the afternoon and the theater will open its kiddieland and cafeteria.

For those wishing to enter cars, either for exhibition or to compete for trophies and awards totaling $300, applications may be obtained at the theater or by writing Richard Martin, president of the Road Runners at 713 Collins st., Joliet.

"The public will be invited to look inside these cars and under the hoods, to discover the ingenious workmanship of a real hot rod and customized car," says Richard. "All questions asked at the exhibit about the cars, our club or our purpose, will be explained in full by any club represented. We are attempting to let the public know, among other things, that the fellow who races from light to light in a down town district, is a member of a hot rod gang, not a hot rod club."

Entries in the exhibit will include rods, customs, antiques, rails, classics, sport cars, trucks and unfinished models as well as some cars of the future.

Richard, explaining definitions of "Hot Rod Talk", says a "hot rod" is an older car which has been "souped up" with a rebuilt or modified engine.

"Customizing" is a substituting of various parts, such as installing a Buick grille on a Chevrolet or placing a Chrysler engine in a Plymouth.

An "antique" is a junked car made to run again.

A "rail" is merely the frame of a car, with the motor, wheels and a roll bar for the driver's protection in case the car turns over.

A "classic" is a fast foreign car.

Methodist Men of Conference to Hold Retreat

Stewardship and the work of Methodist men in the local church will receive special emphasis at the Rock River Conference Methodist Laymen's Retreat Aug. 25 and 26 at Wesley Woods, Lake Geneva, Wis.

John R. Van Sickle, conference lay leader from Rockford, Ill., will preside over the sessions of the retreat. Speakers will include Dr. Don L. Calame (layman), General Board of Lay Activities of The Methodist church, Chicago; the Rev. Dr. G. Ernest Thomas, general board of Evangelism, Nashville, Tenn.; R. Norman Ketchum, associate lay leader, Chicago Southern district, Chicago; and Everett Plank, lay leader of the Arlington Heights, Ill., Methodist church.

Topics to be covered by the speakers include "Christian Stewardship," "Local Church Leadership," "How To Be A Good Church Lay Leader," and "Methodist Men's Work."

The annual retreat will open with registration at 1 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 25, and will adjourn at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 26.

Arthur L. Meyers, member of the program committee and associate lay leader of Chicago Northern district from Park Ridge, Ill., said Rock River Conference has a wealth of lay leadership. "Properly informed and fired with enthusiasm, these men can be of tremendous help in strengthening the church and advancing the cause of Christ," Mr. Meyers said.

Experiments at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the U. of I. have shown a short-leaf pine plantation has used more than 30 inches of water out of the soil when it was available.

Shop Teachers at L-W Addresses Slate Group

Joseph Kruzich has been selected by the board of vocational education to speak before the electrical workshop to be held at the University of Illinois this week, Aug. 20-24. There will be more than 700 teachers of industrial education attending this workshop for the purpose of keeping up with the trends and the techniques in the teaching of electricity in the schools of Illinois.

Mr. Kruzich gave a demonstration of "How to Orient Beginning Students in General Shop Electricity Class" yesterday. His talk included the place of electrical instructions in the industrial education program in Lincoln-Way high school, the types of projects which are included in the course,

Former Mokena Visitor Subject of Magazine Sketch

The New Yorker magazine, Aug. 4 issue, carried a story of Elick Lowitz, the brother of Mrs. L. G. Bruder who, with her family, lived on a farm west of Mokena, for about 25 years.

According to New Yorker, Mrs. Bruder's brother, El, who was 90 years old last Christmas eve, is the oldest floor member of the New York Stock Exchange and the oldest member of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Mr. Lowitz lives on East Fifty seventh street and has a summer home at Cassopolis, Mich., where Mrs. Bruder or members of her family keep him company on week-ends. He married a Fond du lac, Wis. girl in 1896. After 53 years of marriage she died at 80.

The story the aged man gave the New Yorker, was highlighted with many interesting facts of Lowitz's background and life but his dealings with J. Ogden Armour stand out for any who knew that man's personality.

"At one time" said Lowitz, "I had one of the largest grain businesses in Chicago. Armour was my dearest friend. I was the Armour's broker in the wheat pit for many years.

One day I went to Armour's office and asked him for a loan. He rang a bell on his desk and a man came in. "Give Mr. Lowitz two hundred and fifty thousand dollars", Armour said. The next day I told him I needed fifty thousand more. He rang the bell and said, "Give Mr. Lowitz fifty thousand dollars."

Mr. Lowitz's son Jack John J., and Jack's son, William H. also have seats on the New York Stock Exchange. It's the only time in its history that three generations have been members at the same time.

Thru the year he is usually at his office every day except for the summer season, spends on his 1500 acre place at Cassopolis, where he has the largest apple orchard in Cass county. Mr. Lowitz visited Mokena on various occasions when his sister lived there.

how equipment and projects are stored, and how the course is organized and related to other shop experiences.

Mr. Kruzich has been recognized as one of the outstanding industrial arts teachers in the state, and it is quite an honor for L-W to have one of its teachers represented on a program of this type.

Workshop For L-W Faculty to Begin Aug. 27

The Lincoln-Way teachers will be starting back to school a week before the students again this year. The workshop for teachers begins Monday, Aug. 27 and will end on Friday, Aug. 31.

On Monday there will be a general session during which time the workshop plans for the week will be announced by Earl H. Dieken, Lincoln-Way's Curriculum director. Albert H. Krusemark, president of the board, A. Hunter Chapman, principal, will welcome the staff members. There will be an explanation of the schedule for the year, and a review of school policies.

Tuesday's program includes plans for an interesting panel discussion composed of four elementary school principals from New Lenox, Mokena, Frankfort, and Manhattan. Verne E. Crackel, county superintendent of schools will also be a panel participant. John Oster, head of the New Lenox schools will be the moderator. All elementary school teachers in the area are invited to attend. This session will begin at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday morning. A tour of the building as well as an introduction to various departments, will be included in the program.

Wednesday will be devoted to an explanation of the audio-visual program by H. Neil Hardy, the school's audio-visual director. Each staff member will select an audio-visual project to work on during this time which will fit in with his course of study for the school year.

The staff will take a field trip to the Lakeside Press, R. R. Donnelly Sons Publishing Co. in Chicago on Thursday. This should be a most interesting and educational experience as the Lakeside Press is one of the largest of its type in the world.

Friday's program includes a report on the critical thinking project of the Illinois curriculum program by Dr. Henderson, a professor of education at the University of Illinois. Dr. Henderson has been one of the leaders in the critical thinking project being carried on by I.C.P. Time has also been provided for school wide committee meetings as well as departmental meetings. Rains Force Garden Club to Stay at Home

The poem written by Bobby Burns, wherein he stated "The best made plans of mice and men, go oft astray—seemed to apply to the Tinley Park Garden club members.

The group planned to go to Barren Lake, Niles, Mich., Aug. 16 for an all-day outing, but because so many members were on vacation, it was cancelled. But a few members at home decided not to let that day pass without some happy occasion on a lovely summer day outing and decided to pack lunch and to Pilcher park near Joliet. But then the lovely summer day suddenly changed to rain, and plans were changed again. This time, because lunches were all neatly packed and so many goodies awaiting, the pleasant front porch of Mrs. Harry Mager served as a substitute for Pilcher park. Lunching together on the porch with Mrs. Mager were Mrs. John Swisher, Mrs. Amanda Nielsen and Mrs. R. J. Hug.

Perhaps they radiated so much happiness that in the afternoon the sun came out, so the four women climbed into their car and went to Pilcher Park. Their trip they stated, was more than gratifying, because the cacti display, which is the largest in the United States, was of particular interest. They also saw where the chrysanthemum and poinsettia plants are now being potted for the public shows for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

F.F.A. Group Makes Trip to St. Louis

The group was accompanied by Robert Van Rheeden, head of the agriculture department at Lincoln-Way and Glenn Shippy, of the Peotone high school faculty.

Owner of Ben Franklin Has Wide Experience In Retailing

By Anne Rodger

William Moore, owner of Ben Franklin Store, arrived in Tinley Park via Hillsdale, Mich., Louisville, and Somerset, Ky., and Paoli, Ind.

Born in Hillsdale, Mich., he received his A. B. degree at Hillsdale college and studied business administration in a post-graduate course at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

He was employed by the Good Year Tire and Repair Co., in Louisville, Ky., for seven years after graduation. In their retail training program, he pumped gasoline, changed tires and lubricated cars before becoming a store manager.

Prior to entering the U. S. Air Force he owned and operated a bowling alley in Somerset, Ky.

His business career was interrupted for four years while he served as master sergeant in the Air Force. Stationed in the United States, he was an instructor in the maintenance and operation of the equipment used in celestial navigation training.

Extensive Experience

His experience in the type of business he now owns includes ownership of a similar type co-operative store, carrying a different type of merchandise, in Paoli, Ind.

He opened the local Ben Franklin Store four years ago. These cooperative chain stores are the largest in number of stores of this type operating in the United States, Hawaii and Alaska, mostly in small communities.

The chain caters to the needs of the average family. Like most stores in Tinley Park, it is air conditioned.

The merchant and his wife, Helen, who assists him in the store, have been married for 14 years and have one daughter, Lynn, who is six years old. Helen was born in Salisbury, No. Carolina and they met in Louisville, Ky. They reside at 6624 W. 171st st.

Bill Moore is a sincere, affable business man, who is well liked and respected in the community. His main interests are his family, his business, and his community. He is a member of the Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce.

A HEAD START

Today's woman is intelligent, usually knows a bargain when she sees one, coos, drives a car and does hundreds of things her grandmother never dreamed of. And she gambles. I don't mean gambling in the usual sense. I mean she gambles with permanents. Some women, instead of getting a permanent to suit her hair gets one to suit a price. Why? probably because she doesn't know her hair and doesn't take time to find out. She doesn't know just how important the right permanent is for her particular type of hair.

And hair does differ, we all know that. The permanent that gives one woman soft waves and curls might give her neighbor frizz and frustration.

So in the coming weeks send in your questions regarding your hair to the Pink Cloud "Question and Answer" column and I will try to help straighten out some of your problems.

Every head is different and therefore the same price product cannot solve everyone's problem, and the problem varies from job to job. It takes skill to vary the product to meet the job.

Can Claim Children as Tax Exemptions Despite Earnings

Parents of youngsters who are working during the summer vacation were reminded today, by Debert J. Luippold, acting director of the Internal Revenue Service, that under certain circumstances their children may still be claimed as full exemptions for federal income tax purposes.

And the children themselves may be entitled to refunds in whole or part of income taxes withheld from their wages during their employment. The special exemption rule, Mr. Luippold explained, applies to children who will still be under 19 years of age at the end of the year and to children who are full time students, regardless of their age.

Exemption may be claimed by the parents if they contribute more than half the child's support, regardless of the amount earned by the child. This new law was passed by congress in 1954, Mr. Luippold explained. Prior to 1954, no person earning $600 or more could be claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer. Inquiries received, however, indicate that many who are entitled to this benefit are not aware of it. And some parents continue to have their dependent children stop work before earning $600.

Children 19 and over must be engaged in full time study at a recognized educational institution for at least five months of the year or must be pursuing a full time accredited on farm training program.

Mr. Luippold said that any questions regarding individual cases should be referred to the District office, Dearborn 2 4500.

Fair to Open At Peotone Tomorrow

The 53rd annual Will county fair will open tomorrow, Aug. 24, for a three-day run. Entries which closed last Saturday in all classes except the baby show, tractor pulling contest and tractor rodeo, are expected to reach an all-time high. Premiums being offered this year total $21,176.

The program of entertainment will again include three features which have proven popular in past years. The tractor pulling contest is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. opening day, the tractor rodeo will be held on Saturday at the same time and Sunday evening the McKinley Rodeo and Wild West Show will be staged at 7:30 o'clock. Entries in the tractor pulling contest and rodeo will be accepted until 11 a.m. on Friday, Aug. 24.

Directors of the association have provided more seating in the grandstand this year. A new section with a seating capacity of 750 was added to the stands this summer and now the total capacity is 2,250.

A new feature of entertainment this year will be the Cavalcade of Canadian Hell Drivers who will appear Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30. It is billed as the greatest show on wheels, featuring 28 stunt events—one of which is a new convertible shot from a canon. You will see two hours of automotive fury.

Other events will be the fish fry given by the Peotone Firemen's Auxiliary starting at 6 p.m. Friday. The Baby Show will take place in the Republican tent at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and the Blue Ribbon livestock parade is scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday.

The Flying Farmers will start arriving at the Rathje Aviation Service field at 8 a.m. Sunday.

Farm Highlights

By W. F. Whiteside
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

Farmers, regardless of what type of farming they are presently engaged in, have a common basic resource, their land. We are fortunate to have in this area a station where scientific work is being carried on to find ways to maintain and improve the productivity of land. I am talking about the research field at Elwood. The station will throw open its doors on Friday, September 14, and every farmer in Northeastern Illinois should make it his business to attend. You will see tests of minimum tillage (plow plant) fertilizer applications, irrigation (a very timely subject) interseeding of corn with grass and legumes, and soil loss and run off measurements. Circle September 14 on your calendar and attend this interesting tour.

The 1956 4H Fair is now a matter of record. Eleven youthful grand champions were named. You will see their names elsewhere in this paper. They are a very deserving group and received considerable publicity. Just one step away from the grand champion is a boy or girl who almost grabbed the top honor. And one step further away was another 4H'er who has done an excellent job with his project, but there can only be one top honor. To all you folks who did not get the big trophy, I would like to say congratulations for a very commendable showing. Do not be discouraged. Benefit by this year's practice and come back next year with a will to do a better job. I believe every 4H member at the Fair was a credit to themselves, their club, community and the county.

Ronald Kollman of Harvey and Audrey Mascitti of Steger were crowned King and Queen of the 1956 4H Fair. With this honor goes responsibility. They are active 4H members and will be called upon to perform at many county and local 4H ceremonies. Their talents are many and I am sure they can fulfill the duties of the position. Ronald attended a banquet for 4H Key Award winner at the State Fair in Springfield last week. The group participated in a Memorial Service for E. I. Pilchard, former State 4H Club Leader. Key award winners are a very select group of 4H members. They achieve this honor by excellence in 4H project work and activities. Leadership and community service. By having a state wide organization they can be very effective in improving 4H club standards and programs. Cook County 4H members are proud to have representation.

The fifth annual Dairy Day at the University of Illinois is announced for Thursday, September 6. The ten day program which begins at 10 am., will include demonstrations on latest research at the University and a tour showing modern equipment and techniques in use at the Dairy Farm.

Whether you're a farmer or a city gardener, it will pay you to follow directions on insecticide labels. The information on the label was worked out through careful study and experimentation. On the average, the Research and Development necessary to put a new insecticide on the market costs $500,000. This research is necessary to determine correct dosage and application time. It's a great temptation to put on more than you need. But your control won't be any better. The residual level will be higher, and your crop may be condemned. Overdose also may cause burning of the plant and can lower the yield. What's more, it costs extra money. On the other hand, if you try to save money by putting on less than is recommended, you will cut cost but you'll also cut effectiveness. So the best practice is to read the label—and follow the instructions.

TAILOR-MADE MOTOR FUEL
"Personalized" gasoline, blend right at the service station

pump, is being tested in the Orlando, Florida, area, to determine the practicality of a new method of meeting specific fuel requirements of automobile engines. A special pump simultaneously siphons fuel from two underground tanks, one containing regular grade gasoline, the other, a special concentrate. By turning a dial, the operator can determine the proportion withdrawn from each tank. The contents from the two tanks flow through separate lines, one inside the other, up to the nozzle, where they are blended before entering the automobile fuel tank. This way each automobile will be provided with a gasoline of an octane quality suited to its needs and priced for the quality received. Oil businesses experiment continuously to improve product quality and efficiency for the American motorist.

EXTRA CARE PAYS OFF
A little extra care of newly planted shrubs and evergreens protects the initial investment and is often the difference between planting success and failure, the state's "Plant Illinois" Committee cautions.

Regular, frequent cultivation of newly planted shrub beds kills weeds that may choke the new plants and helps to conserve moisture, the committee says.

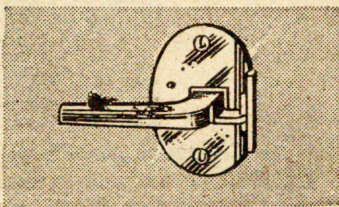

Pruning, fertilizing and spraying are also important, but the requirements vary with different plants. Best bet is to check with your local nursery man about the weeds of individual plants.

Maurice P. Angland

When the purchasing power of the dollar is down to the consumer by inflation, it is also down to the corporation. Profits are not as valuable today as they were a decade back.

Henry H. Heiman, executive vice president of the National Association of Credit Men has expressed the opinion that achievements of corporations in "dollar earnings" are not as great as they appear in terms of purchasing power. In this connection he points out that replacement value of a piece of machinery that cost a thousand dollars 15 years ago, today would require an outlay of at least double and often four times that amount. He hopes that income tax rules will be realistic about this situation and allow depreciation charges that will recognize the necessity of depreciation accumulation which will permit purchase of a similar machine within the usual economic life time of such a machine.

Mr. Heiman points out that "the only beneficiary of wage-price boosts, is the government, for it takes a larger share of wages through taxes, not on a proportionate basis, but on an income bracket basis".

A great many people do not understand why an increase of about seven per cent in steel prices due to wage increases does not reflect solely in a seven percent increase in end products. The corporate income tax of about 52 per cent has a very heavy impact. Most industries buy a considerable amount of products on the outside market which are included in their end products. Prices to these manufacturers of such outside purchases, usually include income taxes as their sales prices are calculated to produce a profit "after taxes."

The average automobile weighs about two tons and a steel increase of $8.50 per ton might be calculated to mean a price increase of about $17 per car but it does not work out that way. Auto manufacturers do not buy raw steel and make cars from it. They buy pieces and bits to assemble.

The parts makers not only pay more for their steel but for a lot of other things (including labor) going into their fabrication costs. Such auto components as ball bearings have been marked up 8 to 13 per cent, castings 2 to 10 percent, and fractional motors 7½ to 10 per cent, etc.

Based on production for the first half of 1935, to restore net profits per automobile, General Motors must increase its prices not less than about $37.50 per automobile. A goodly portion of the added increase is due to a 52 per cent federal income tax paid by its suppliers and included in the costs paid by General Motors for its suppliers. The increase of $37.50 per automobile assumes a constant volume of production and is exclusive of increase in steel prices and other costs which the company itself has been absorbing.

To set 1937 prices, the motor industry must project their increased costs and also anticipated sales.

It will be interesting to see what increases the 1937 models will carry. The action of the automobile industry will be typical of many industries.

that's THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE

ILLINOIS STATE
BAR ASSOCIATION

The purchasing of a home is probably the largest single investment that the average person makes during his lifetime. There are many dangers involved in this apparently simple transaction. The few rules of thumb outlined below are suggested so that you as a home-buyer, will be able to enjoy your new home without annoyance and unexpected expenditure, and resell without difficulty.

Before any papers are signed, the house itself should be thoroughly examined by a qualified person. After the prospective purchaser decides to buy, and the price is agreed upon, the question of a contract arises. The buyer is often urged to sign a paper immediately, and at the same time to make a cash deposit. He may be told by the owner or agent that the paper is merely a form or "binder" which everyone uses. Whatever that first paper may be called if the buyer and seller sign it, a binding contract is created, even tho the buyer has been told that a more detailed contract will be signed later. That first paper establishes many of the buyer's most important rights and duties in the transaction, and if it does not adequately protect his interests, he may find that what appeared to be an attractive purchase is in fact a serious financial liability.

The following are some of the more important things a buyer should look for in the contract of purchase.

Description

The contract should contain the technical legal description of the property (obtainable from the county recorder's office), and should state the frontage and depth of the lot (obtainable from a survey). Description by street number alone is not sufficient. The purchaser should make certain that all structures on the land are inside the lot lines, and that there are no structures encroaching from adjoining lots.

Payment Provisions

The contract should set out the purchase price and the amount of any earnest money deposit. The agreed method of payment should be stated clearly. Should the buyer intend to borrow part of the purchase price, the contract should provide for cancellation and return of the cash deposit if he is unable to obtain a loan on satisfactory terms. Also, if a buyer intends to take over an existing mortgage, he should carefully examine the terms of the mortgage in advance.

The contract should require the seller to provide an abstract of title within a specified time. But the buyer cannot rely on the abstract alone. It must be examined by an attorney who will render an opinion on the present quality of title.

Should Specify Deed

The contract should specify the type of deed the buyer is to receive. If the seller conveys by "warranty deed", he promises to protect the buyer if the buyer does not receive the entire possession and title which the deed is supposed to convey. Much less protection is afforded by a "quitclaim deed". As a general rule, a buyer should not agree to accept anything but a warranty deed, without the advice of an attorney.

When two or more persons are buying, they may take title in joint tenancy. Under this agreement title automatically passes to the survivor of them. The desirability of this arrangement depends upon many considerations which vary in each case, such as income, gift and death tax consequences.

It is important that the contract specify the date the buyer is to take possession of the house. If he is delayed in acquiring possession, he may be subjected to heavy additional expenses. A provision allowing the purchaser to withhold a part of the purchase price or cash payment until he is in possession will help to protect him on this point.

Personal Property Troubles

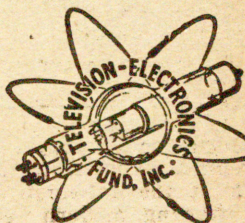

A frequent source of difficulty is the question of personal property to be sold with the house. The contract should list the property to go to the buyer and that to go to the seller. The buyer should also check for recent improvements on the land, or the delivery of material to the premises, which might be the basis for a contractor's lien he would have to pay to prevent foreclosure.

Finally, the contract should set up a reasonable time schedule for the completion of the sale. Dates for the furnishing of evidence of title by the seller, the time allowed to the seller to cure any objections to title, and the date for the closing, should be specified. The contract, as well as the deed, should be signed by the seller, and, if he is married, by his wife also.

Buyer Must Beware

The important point for you to remember as a prospective purchaser is that that first instrument you sign can be a proper declaration of your rights or a most uncomfortable straight-jacket. Possibly no other single transaction offers a buyer more opportunity to "act in haste and repent at leisure" than the purchase of a home. If you doubt, you should obtain competent legal advice before signing anything.

This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.

Cites Role Oil Plays In World

In last Thursday's issue of a Chicago afternoon paper considerable space was devoted to the role oil plays in modern society, and the effect that stoppage of its flow thru the Suez canal could have upon world economy.

In regard to such a discussion this newspaper was a week ahead. Two week ago Maurice P. Angland, who writes a financial column every week for The Semmler Newspapers, dwelt on the oil and coal situation as it affects the economy and he continued the discussion last Thursday, paying particular attention to the relation of the subject to the Suez canal crisis.

Mr. Angland's columns were not only filled with facts but the facts were interpreted quite clearly.

If you think fall isn't nearly here, go into any big store. The "back to school" sales are underway in full force.

Which again brings memories of clear, sharp mornings, the whang of an exploding shotgun shell and the tang of acrid powder on the air.

Illinois hunters this year will have a chance to hunt a new bird, a Japanese import called the Coturnix quail. The state conservation department has been raising them at the Mount Vernon game farm and 300 will be released in Jefferson and Jackson counties.

This little bird is said to thrive without the cover quail seem to need and ought to multiply rapidly. The first hunters to shoot them may think they are getting Bob Whites as the new quail are remarkably like them in color. However the Japanese type have no crests and have longer and thinner bills.

The new birds also are distinguished in that they do not covey and usually are flushed singly or in pairs. They reportedly lay well to dogs which makes them a prime, all-around addition to the hunting menu.

where good small birds are getting scarce.

Another announcement of importance is the setting of the dove hunting dates. They are from Sept. 1 to Oct. 10. The daily bag and possession limits on turtle doves and mourning doves is eight.

The woodcock season is from Nov. 7 to Dec. 17 and the limit is four woodcock for the daily bag with a possession limit of eight.

From early statewide reports Illinois hunters, if they are not unwilling to travel a bit, should have a fairly good season with any type of bird they prefer.

Young pheasants are reported scouting about the hayfields even in the suburbs and generally the hatching season has been good. It is almost time to think of looking over the shotgun and ammunition situation even if the sun is high and hot and the world series still to be played.

One other encouraging note where the late hatchers and second laying ducks are reported in greater numbers than ever on all preserves. We will look for them when they head south again.

Tinley Small Frys Now Champions

Take Peotone Two out of Three Games to Win Tri-County Title

By Al Rodger

The Tinley Park Small Fry won the Tri-County championship last Sunday by trimming Peotone 4-1 behind the 5-hit pitching of Jerry Romanenghi.

Peotone won the first game of a two out of three game series 5-0, but Tinley evened the count when they edged their rivals in the second contest by 5-4.

The final game was played under ideal conditions and both teams were confident of victory.

Peotone accounted for their one run in the first inning when Cann, first batter, bunted and was safe at first. Ruge and Palmer fanned, but Vaniten's single rolled to the fence, scoring Cann and Vaniten stopped at third. Jacobs fanned to end the inning.

Neither team was able to score for the following three innings due to the superb pitching by Jerry Romanenghi and Vaniten, but Tinley scored their four runs in the fifth inning when Vallone worked a base on balls and Carlson followed with a triple to tie the score as Vallone crossed the plate.

Grossman singled to score Carlson, Goebel grounded to short forcing Grossman, Romanenghi grounded out to first, but Rodger singled thru short, scoring Goebel. When the left fielder threw wild to second, Rodger scored. Casey grounded out to end the inning.

Romanenghi was the winning pitcher, yielding five hits while striking out ten. Vaniten was charged with the loss, allowing five hits and striking out eight.

Tigers Bow to Oaks 8-3 But Beat Rays 3-2

Pennant hopes of the Tinley Park Tigers were dimmed last Sunday when Oak Forest dusted the off 8 to 3. The Tigers would have been glad to have traded their win over the Rays of Blue Island earlier, a team that is highly regarded in the Hamilton Park league. The Tinley beat the Rays 3 to 2.

In the game at Oak Forest the Tigers started out like they were going places. Scoring a run on a walk by Morlock and singles by Anfield and Ebling but the Oaks came back in their half of the inning to score two runs on one hit and an error. The next inning saw the Oak Forest outfit score five runs on one hit as the Tigers made five boots.

Ron Dziennik and Slick Sedlacek combined hits in their half of the fourth and again in the sixth inning to count a couple of runs for the Tigers and in the eighth the Tigers concluded their scoring efforts with two runs. Anfield reached first on an error and came home on a double by Harnack. The latter came in on a single by Dziennik.

Calumet Park will come to Tinley this Sunday to meet the Tigers.

In the game with the Blue Island team the Tigers were out-hit but put their blows together at the right time. Dean Taylor walked to start the second inning for Tinley. An error by the shortstop enabled Moose Nasebrandt to reach first and Taylor to third. Dziennik, who was on the mound for the Tigers, drove a hit thru the box to score Taylor and send Nasebandt to third from where he scored on Al Heller's grounder to the second baseman. Don Kuech scored the winning run in the fifth.

Bowlers to Form League in Tinley

Holy Name Softball Team Blanks Mokena Lions Outfit 14-0

In a softball game played last Sunday in Mokena Community park, a team representing the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church blanked the Mokena Lions 14 to 0.

Jim Marti started the St. Mary's group off on its victory march by hitting the first pitch of the game for a homerun.

That was somewhat disconcerting but the Lions were still very much in the ballgame when the inning ended as Marti's homer was the only tally but in the second inning the roof fell in and before the debris could be cleared away the Holy Name team had added seven more runs for a total of eight on a homer by Jim Surovick and a flock of less robust wallopers by Father Cecil, Ted Pethes, Jerry Nelson, Jim Marti, Mickey Clegg, Ernie Lawson and Surovick again.

Other Holy Name players included Art Marshall, Dick Martin, Larry Weathers, Ken Corneils, Joe Klinger, Jack Gorman and Leo Marcoux, the manager.

The Lions got some hits but couldn't push any runs across the plate. Glen Miers led off in the first inning with a single, only to be doubled. In the fifth inning it looked like the Lions couldn't miss. They had the bases full when Ray Westlund lashed a vicious drive that was speared by Clegg to shut off the threat.

The Lions line-up included Roy Richardson, Charles Kelch, Bill Munch, Westlund, Jim Wrath, Bill Muehler, Harry Fee, Dave Edmann, Art Omland and Al Sorensen, playing manager.

The Lions are all ready looking forward to next year and revenge.

Ace Drivers Seek Win on Joliet Track

Bob Tattersall and Willie Wildhaber, the only drivers with more than one feature race victory to their credit, will try to get back to their winning ways in the midget auto races Saturday night at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

Wildhaber, of Lexington, Ill., won two main events in succession. After a one-week interlude, when Johnny Meyers of Chicago won, Tattersall, the Streator ace, came up to win three in a row and take the lead in the track point standings.

Morton Grove veteran Johnny Riva captured the laurels two weeks ago, and the racing program was rained out last week for only the second time this season.

Several pilots have made strong claims to fame in the last few weeks. Among them are Mike King of Evanston, Tony Lenti and John Lodi of Chicago, George Petit of Maywood, Phil Ashline of Kankakee and Paul Kerber of Elgin.

Besides Meyers and Riva, other drivers out for second feature victories will be George Sallery of Chicago, Ken Rubright of Lyndon and Tony Saylor of Joliet.

Time trials Saturday start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m. There will be four heat races, a handicap event, 15 lap semifeature and 25 lap feature.

CHERRY PICKERS

The Tinley Park Cherry Pickers will meet Tuesday Sept. 4, at 8 p.m. at Miller's Corner, 183rd and Oak Park ave., to form teams for the coming bowling season.

The first bowling session will start at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 9.

Cards Champs of Small Fry Loop In Tinley Park

The season has finished for thee Cubs, Sox, Braves and Cards; teams organized this year in the Small Fry local league.

The Cards finished in first place, Cubs one game behind in second and the Sox one game behind the Cubs in third place.

The Braves, although not playing an important part in final standings, can survey a record where three of their losses were only by one run.

Sixty boys participated in the baseball program and were outfitted with uniforms.

Managers, coaches and uneps feel the program was a big success and a good start toward preparing the younger small fry for older leagues.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In the last week's account of the Mokena-Manhattan Babe Ruth game the results were reversed. It was said that Mokena won the game 6 to 3. It should have read that Manhattan won, 6 to 3. We are sorry.

Boob of the Month

MOPEY DICK drives all over —all over city streets, expressways and country roads.

He always has a destination, but it's a miracle he ever arrives.

When he decides to turn, he's in the wrong lane.

On expressways he doesn't figure far enough ahead to exit properly.

So he cuts over, flapping his flipper at the last moment.

Most of the time other drivers are courteous, or scared, and let him through.

Expressways are waters too deep for Mopey Dick. For the safety of himself and others he should stay in the shallows until he learns that anticipating turns and exits is a vital principle of driving in heavy traffic.—COOK COUNTY HIGHWAYS (Published by Cook County Highway Department).

Safety Experts Cite Needs to Reduce Autocide

"Autocide" is the theme of a ten point highway accident reduction program featured in "Watch," the safety magazine published by the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co.

The death rate by autocide is threatening to reach an all time high—an estimated 41,000 traffic deaths for the year 1956. Because of the immediacy of the problem, the staff of the Institute has devoted the entire "Watch" issue to communicating the views of ten outstanding authorities in the traffic safety field.

Each report is a campaign for action in one of the ten major areas where much can be accomplished to bring autocide under control. The Institute warns that if we are to stop one auto death from occurring every thirteen minutes, we must meet the ten critical needs outlined below.

1. Continue pressure for new highway construction and the widening, straightening and repairing of secondary roads.
2. Support driving training courses. Only 11 states have top-level driving courses for high school students.
3. Establish an effective state automobile inspection program in every state.
4. Abolish all ticket-fixing.
5. Help the community to organize all its agencies into a co-ordinated force - for safer driving.
6. Expand traffic policing forces.
7. Encourage nation-wide adoption of uniform traffic laws.
8. Believe in and practice courtesy on the highway.
9. Encourage safety engineers and others concerned to turn their attention to safe car design and construction.

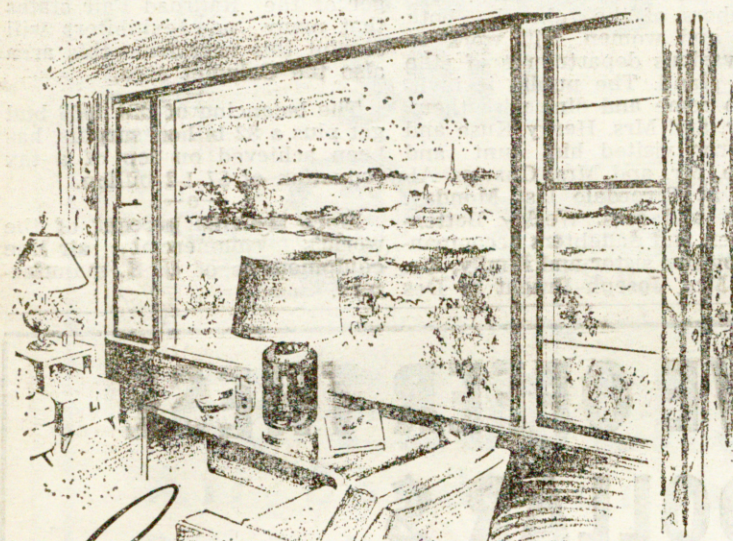

10. Let every driver know how to control and respect the power at his command; let him learn what causes accidents and how to avoid them; let him learn the rules of the road and obey them. Unless these ten critical needs are met now, the Institute warns that the number of traffic deaths and injuries can be expected to reach new highs in 1957.

At the second annual picnic of the employees of the North American Mushroom Co., of Tinley Park, held Aug. 5 at the Indiana Sand dunes, Mrs. Sue Newell was presented a watch, suitably engraved for her 15 years of service with the company. Joseph Magiera, president of the company made the presentation as shown in the lower right center. He stated he was proud of the record the 13 regular employees had made because of not having any accidents. The average record of the employees, Mr. Magiera said, was 10 years of service, of which he was proud. The group will have a weiner roast in September as the last summer event.

Silver Cross to Graduate Class of 24 Aug. 30

Twenty-four seniors at Silver Cross School of Nursing, Joliet, will receive their diplomas at commencement exercises to be held at Pershing school, Campbell and Midland Streets, next Thursday evening, Aug. 30.

Baccalaureate services will be held on Sunday evening, August 25, at St. Johns English Lutheran Church, Herkimer near Jefferson. The Rev. William J. Boldt, pastor of the church, will deliver the sermon.

The commencement speaker is the Rev. Granger Westberg, professor of religion and health at the University of Chicago, where he serves on both medical and theological faculties, "putting into practice" according to Time magazine "his conviction that physical, mental and spiritual health are all of a piece, and that medicos and ministers should work together". He is the author of a book: "Nurse, Pastor and Patient".

In the class from this area are Mrs. Martin John Medema, the former Doris Cummons, and Mrs. George Wagner, the former Rita Werner. Both of these graduates are formerly of Mokena.

ASC Committee Election Sept. 11

Community election boards have been selected for all areas in Will county, it has been announced by Roy M. Smith, chairman of the county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee election board.

"This year," Mr. Smith said, "community elections will be held by meetings on Sept. 11. The designation of meeting places will be among the first duties of the newly selected community election boards. Announcement of these meeting places will be made as soon as possible, it was explained.

The committeemen to be elected Sept. 11 will take office Oct. 1 and serve until elections are conducted next year.

Members of community election boards for the various areas include: Frankfort, Martin Smith and James Tilsy, Mokena, Andrew Swanberg, Rt. 1, Frankfort; Green Garden, Elmer Morrison, and Harold Scheer, Mokena and J. A. Kestel, Frankfort; Homer, Ralph Reiter, Lockport; Merritt J. Cagwin and Willard Rowley, Jr., Rt. 1, Lockport; Manhattan, Lorin Schleeter, Rt. 1, Manhattan and Dick McHugh and Fred L. Richards, Manhattan; New Lenox, Floyd Pester, Rt. 2, Joliet; Oscar Fritz, Manhattan and Charles Jungles, S. Cedar rd., New Lenox.

In order to be eligible to vote in the community committee elections, a person must have an interest in a farm in the community as owner, tenant or sharecropper, must be participating in the agricultural conservation program or carrying out on his farm one of the eligible practices covered by that program, or be eligible for price support on one or more agricultural commodities he produces.

The chairman pointed out that this is the farmers' opportunity to participate in choosing the men who will administer the price support, crop allotment and quota, agricultural conservation, sugar, acreage reserve and conservation reserve programs during the coming year.

Since 1950, Red Cross volunteers have spent 41,000,000 hours while directly serving servicemen, veterans, and their families, an average of more than 8,000,000 volunteer hours per year.

LEGAL NOTICES
1—SEC STATE— 5792
OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE
PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL
AMENDMENT

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1956.

REVENUE
AMENDMENT
Article IX

Sec. 1 The General Assembly may define and classify property for taxation, but all such definitions and classifications shall be reasonable and be based solely on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or business of the owner or the amount or number owned. All real estate shall constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may be classified separately. If any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax shall be uniform as to the class.

Sec. 2 The General Assembly may levy or authorize the levy of such other kinds of taxes as it may deem necessary, which shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, but shall not levy or authorize the levy of a graduated income tax.

Sec. 3 The property of the State, counties and other municipal corporations, both real and personal and such other property, or part thereof, as may be owned by or held in trust for, agricultural or horticultural societies, nonprofit hospitals or schools, religious institutions, cemeteries, or charitable institutions and used exclusively for one or more of such purposes, may be exempted from taxation; but such exemption shall be only by general law. In the assessment of real estate incumbered by public easement, any depreciation occasioned by such easement may be deducted in the valuation of such property. This section shall not deprive the General Assembly of power to classify property for taxation as provided in section 1 of this Article.

Sec. 9 The General Assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages with power to make local improvements by special assessment, or by special taxation on contiguous property, or otherwise. For all other corporate purposes, all municipal corporations may be vested with authority to levy and collect taxes subject to the restrictions of sections 1 and 2 of this Article.

Sec. 10 The General Assembly shall not impose taxes upon municipal corporations, or the inhabitants or property thereof, for corporate purposes, but shall require the corporate authorities to levy taxes for the payment of liabilities incurred under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable to be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate liabilities of a municipal corporation.

Section 13 of Article 9 of this Constitution is repealed.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2, 3, 9, and 10 OF
ARTICLE IX AND FOR THE REPEAL OF SECTION 13 OF
ARTICLE IX

(Revenue Amendment)

Explanation of Amendment

This amendment would revise Section 1 of Article IX of the State Constitution so as to permit the General Assembly to classify property for tax purposes, subject to the following restriction: (1) the classifications are to be based on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or business of the owner or the amount or number owned; (2) all real estate is to constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may each be classified separately; and (3) if any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax is to be uniform as to the class.

This amendment would also revise and simplify Section 2 of Article IX, dealing with the levy of miscellaneous types of taxes, but would require such taxes to be uniform as to the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax. The levy of a graduated income tax would be forbidden.

Other changes are merely routine. This amendment revises Section 3 to require ownership or its equivalent—and not mere use—as a basis for exemption of charitable, religious, and other similar property from taxation. In addition, non-profit hospitals would be added to the list of institutions and purposes for which the General Assembly may grant tax exemption by general law.

Section 9 and 10 would be revised to subject the taxing powers of cities and other local governments to the same restrictions as apply to the General Assembly. The language in regard to obligations of these governments would be broadened, requiring them to levy taxes not merely—as now—for “debts contracted” but rather for “liabilities incurred.”

This amendment would, in addition, repeal obsolete Section 13, which was adopted in 1890 to authorize the corporate authorities of Chicago to issue Columbian Exposition bonds.

YES	For the proposed amendment to Sections 1, 2, 3, 9, and 10 of the Constitution and for the repeal of Section 13 of Article IX of the Constitution (Revenue Amendment)

Milk Marketing
Order Change
Gets Approval

The Secretary of Agriculture has approved two amendments to Federal Milk Marketing Order 41 in Chicago. Proposals to amend the order were presented at a Federal Order Hearing in Chicago during the first week of June.

Pure Milk Association proposed both amendments. No producer group presented any opposition to the PMA-sponsored amendments.

Approved are the following:
1. A “pool plant” provision, requiring that country plants must ship at least 50% of their milk to market during the period September through November. Plants which ship at least 50 percent of their produced milk to market will qualify as “pool plants” for the delivery periods of December through August following.

2. Elimination of the 70-cents-a-hundred premium on out-of-market sales of fluid milk during September, October and November.

Both amendments are effective Sept. 1. The Secretary approved them on Aug. 13.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

The Light still shines in the darkness, and the darkness has never put it out. (John 1:5. Phillips.)

Our first opportunity to visit a cave was during a vacation trip. As we stood looking at the rock formations, wet with water, our guide explained that the formation of the rocks by dripping water was started centuries ago. He also said that the green vegetation growing on the walls did not appear until electric lights were installed.

Our guide pulled the electric switch, and the cave was in total darkness—the blackest we had ever experienced. Then our guide lighted a candle. We could see again. All the darkness in the cave could not put out the light of that candle.

A radiant and unfaltering faith in God had its beginning long centuries ago. Christians throughout the ages witness that new life springs forth in the darkest places when exposed to the light of God's Word. The assurances of the Christian faith are that God has established His Word as a light in the world, and that no darkness is black enough to put it out.

Prayer

O Christ, Thou art the true light of this world. So shine into our hearts that all the darkness will be expelled and we shall walk in Thy light without fear and without stumbling. In the blessed name of Christ we pray. Amen.

Thought for the Day

Christ is the Light of the world; no darkness can overcome Him.

Howard B. Oborn (Illinois)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The healing power of divine Love will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday, August 26, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus."

Jesus' assurance to his disciples of their ability to heal the sick by means of prayer will be included in the Scriptural reading (John 14:12): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the work that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father."

Selections read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (243:4) "The divine Love, which made harmless the poisonous viper, which delivered men from the boiling oil, from the fiery furnace, from the jaws of the lion, can heal the sick in every age and triumph over sin and death."

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George E. Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Summer is the time for vacations, for both government workers and employees of business and industry. Employees of the State of Illinois don't get uniform treatment, however, according to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. Because there is no one central authority which has power to set standards on the length of vacations, sick leave, rest periods and the other so-called fringe benefits, each department must make its own rules. The major departments under the governor are ruled by the Civil Administrative Code, the only statutory authority on this subject, which grants "fourteen days' leave of absence with full pay." Some departments think this means fourteen consecutive days, exactly two weeks, while others interpret it to mean fourteen working days, almost three weeks.

"Workers have a better idea of their real compensation, and management can budget more intelligently, if cost fringe benefits are known," Maurice W. Scott, Executive Secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation said. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States surveyed fringe benefit costs recently and found the average cost in private industry was 19.7 per cent of the payroll, 34.6 cents per payroll hour, or $720 per year per employee.

The city government of Glendale, California, studied its fringe benefit costs and the Civil Service Assembly of the United States and Canada reported the findings. Although some fringe benefits are not readily calculated in dollars and cents, four were computed: vacation, sick leave, holidays and retirement.

The average monthly payroll salary for that city is $356.95. Fringe benefits per mo. average, $73.94, making the actual salary $429.99, an increase of more than 20 per cent. The yearly boost in Glendale is $876.53.

"In the present set-up, it is almost impossible to determine costs of fringe benefits for State of Illinois workers, because these benefits vary so much from one office to the next," the Taxpayers' Federation continued. "Equal treatment for all state workers, adequate vacations to reward them, and yardsticks to compute the costs to taxpayers, will all be possible after July 1, 1957, when the new Personnel Code goes into effect."

Praise Stratton's Choice For Auditor In November Election

A resolution commending Gov. Stratton for securing a candidate of the caliber of Sen. Elbert S. Smith for State Auditor, was adopted unanimously at a luncheon meeting of Cook County G.O.P. candidates.

Benjamin S. Adamowski, Republican candidate for State's Attorney, introduced the resolution at a meeting in the Bismarck hotel. It was attended by all candidates on the county ticket, and by Edward F. Moore, county chairman.

"Gov. Stratton and Atty-Gen. Castle deserve the highest praise for their forthright and prompt action in removing the former Auditor from the ticket in the interest of the people of Illinois," said Adamowski's resolution.

"Unlike the former Democratic state administration, which stalled and delayed instead of moving swiftly in the horsemeat scandal, the Republican state administration has moved quickly and decisively.

"Sen. Smith has made an outstanding record in the Illinois General Assembly. His personal and public life are above reproach. His first act has been to release a public statement of his own financial condition, an example of frankness and open dealing which indicates a man of character."

Next to knowing when to seize an opportunity, the most important thing in life is to know when to forego an advantage.

"To think that the American Revolution started over one tax! There are enough taxes now days to keep a rebellion going indefinitely."—Ima Washout.

Washington News Letter

PARTY RULE IN CONGRESS

Raymond Moley, a nationally known news commentator and columnist, in a series of three articles in Newsweek Magazine—July 2nd, 9th, and 16th—gives the record of party loyalty of members of congress.

Mr. Moley bases the record of the members of the House of Representatives solely upon legislative proposals on which the Democratic and Republican leaders of the house were on opposite sides, thus making the proposal "party issues".

On the basis of Mr. Moley's analysis of July 9th, the writer—your Congressman—voted in support of his party 22 out of the 23 roll calls, a 96 per cent record of party loyalty.

Mr. Moley did not take into account legislative proposals upon which both party leaders were in agreement—mostly New Deal proposals. Upon such legislation, as you perhaps know, your Congressman voted his own convictions. He voted for flexible farm supports, the road construction program, tax revision and tax reduction, and all bills to cut Federal expenditures. He voted against foreign aid, Federal school aid, social security extension, Federal housing, and all bills that would tend to take away powers from the States and centralize them in Washington.

In other words, as a strict party man—according to Mr. Moley's analysis—your congressman has a 96 per cent record of loyalty. On all New Deal legislation he voted his convictions, which were almost always in opposition.

Your Congressman is neither a "Yes Man" nor a "Rubber Stamp!"

JUST AS TRUE HERE

Mr. John Hefferman, a British economist, recently wrote an article entitled "High Taxes in Britain." What Mr. Hefferman says of British high taxes is just as true of our high taxes—if not more so. The following is a resume of the Hefferman article:

Britain was called by Napoleon a nation of SHOPKEEPERS; it has now become a nation of TAXPAYERS. Five out of every six workers now pay taxes. (The same is true here.)

One-third of what the average workers earns goes for taxes. Tax rates run from 11¼ per cent in the bottom bracket to 87½ per cent in the top bracket. (Our rates run from 20 per cent to 91 per cent.)

From 1938 to 1953 the British tax load increased 950 per cent. (Our tax load increased, from 1940 to 1956, 1300 per cent—from $5 billion to $65 billion.)

In the higher brackets taxation practically amounts to confiscation. Taxation of companies is so burdensome that it threatens to break us. More than half our profits goes for taxes. Present taxes remove all incentive to earn above 4000 pounds (approximately $12,000.) (The same is true here.)

The British businessmen have long said, "I'm not interested in politics." They have at last found they had better be interested in politics because while they can avoid politics, they cannot avoid heavy taxes—the direct result of politics. (The same is true of American businessmen.)

Strength—How?

Lesson for August 26, 1956

THE nine short letters which have been the subject of the Bible studies throughout the Protestant churches of America these past two months are as different among themselves as their writers were different. The 3 letters of John were written by a "mystic," one for whom the things that are unseen are more real than anything the bodily eye can see. The letter of James was written by a man who would probably find himself very much at home in the typical American go-getting, practical-minded church. He deals with many problems in a short-spoken blunt fashion; and the problems are exactly those that an American pastor would run into most often in talking with his people.

Dr. Foreman

Why Must This Happen to ME?

One question preachers are asked pretty often is something like this: "Why must this happen to me? I have been a good citizen, I try to be a good Christian, I do all the good I can . . . and now this has happened." "This" may mean a disappointment, disaster, sickness, trouble of almost any kind. James has a surprising answer. "Count it all joy," he says, when such things happen to you. Thereason why trials ought to make us happy instead of sad is that trials make us strong. Of course there are always a few abnormal people who don't want to be strong, or don't care; but it is perfectly normal and right to want to be strong in every possible way. No sensible Christian will want to be healthy in body and mind, and yet be content with being a spiritual weakling.—This does not mean that troubles and trials don't hurt; indeed they do. There's no telling ourselves that we like being hurt,—we don't like it. Pain is real, death is real, disappointment and frustration are real. But —James would tell us—let's not whine about such things. Nobody loves to sit in a dentist's chair but all the same, sitting there the patient may well be thankful for dentists. Lying on a bed of pain one may not like the pain but if it is from an operation one may be thankful for the surgeon. So we have every right to thank God for the pains he sends us.

How Does Strength Come?

How does a coach build up a powerful football team? Not by taking the boys out to the field every afternoon in Cadillacs and letting them watch somebody else scrimmage. No strong team ever took a game yet, that had not had a full share of aching muscles, perhaps even broken bones, beforehand. How does a recruit in the army put his muscles into shape? Not by tender words from a sergeant who wouldn't for the world hurt these poor young boys committed to his care. No, the sergeant is tough, and his job is to make the boys tough (this does not in the least mean that they have to be profane or mean or cruel), and you don't toughen up by sitting around. You do it by taking long hikes, hikes a little too long, in fact; lifting loads you'd rather not lift; carrying a pack that you think should have been meant for two men. How do students strengthen their minds? Not by letting the teacher do the work. The most effective teachers are those that make the students live hard. So it is in all walks of life. A strong bank is one that can come through years of depression; any bank can make it on a wave of prosperity. A strong farmer is a farmer who can keep on through drought and grasshoppers and boll weevils and what have you, a man who sticks with it while his weaker neighbors pick up and head for the end of the rainbow. Troubles make strength; without trial there will be no strength.

God Knows What He Is Doing

Some people think,—Yes, this is all very true. But there is such a thing as an overload. What if I am so overloaded I break down? The answer to that should be simple for the thoughtful Christian. One who believes in Providence will believe that no trial comes to any man without God's knowledge, indeed not without God's sending. He knows where we need strength; he knows what it will take to make us strong. One who trusts his life to the true God will be assured that God knows what he is doing. He knows what too much would be; and he does not send it.

Unusual Serving Tray

An easy-to-make project is a serving tray. Two pieces of Masonite 1/8" tempered Presdwood, glued together back-to-back, are required. The tray is 16 inches wide and 24 inches long. Ends should be rounded off to form the shape of a kidney.

At a distance of 1/4 inch from the edges, drill 3/16-inch holes, 1 inch on centers. A piece of 5/8-inch rope, sufficiently long to go around the tray and allow arches at each end as handles, then is sewed in place through the holes. A strong cord and darning needle should be used.

The tray may be primed and painted or left in its natural color. In the latter case, the surface should be sealed with a clear penetrating sealer.

Highlights Of Farm Life

By W. F. Whiteside
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

This week we salute the youth of the 4H Program at the South Cook 4H Fair in Chicago Heights. Let's all join together in this harvest time celebration of such great importance to these young people. The youth of this county is its most important "crop" at harvest time or any time. The boys and girls will exhibit finished products resulting from the year's project work. It is a thrill to see the pride of ownership exhibited by these 4H'ers. Some people might think that the carefully groomed and prepared project is the end product. This is not the case at all. The project, and its associated experiences, contribute to the development of a better boy or girl. With this idea in mind we invite you to visit the South Cook 4H Fair August 17, 18 and 19. Look over the 4H project work. You can be assured that these exhibits have served as a means to an end, the building of a better citizen of tomorrow.

Ronald Kollman of Harvey, Jane Anker of South Holland, Bill Lorenz of Chicago Heights, Walter Bernard of Mokena and Carol Siemsen of Tinley Park will conduct the Flag Raising Ceremony, which officially opens the 4H Fair Friday morning, August 17. All 4H'ers, leaders, parents and visitors are encouraged to participate in this ceremony. We should all be thankful that we live in a country where this type of event can be conducted by free people without fear.

Carl Engelhardt of Tinley Park and George Kloss of Chicago Heights, co chairman of the 4H Plowing Contest committee has arranged for this event to be held on the Walter Meinheit farm, east of Crawford avenue between Flossmoor and Vollmer roads. Fourteen 4H members will show their skill with the plow in this contest.

I promised you some information on renovation of lawns. Now is the time and here is the information.

Start in August. Chances for a good lawn are best when you renovate in the fall. If you start the job in August, you can seed in September. The fall growth, plus the next spring's growth, produces a sod thick enough to keep out crab grass, one of the lawn's worst enemies. Kill the weeds first. Use 2,4-D according to instructions on container.

Apply fertilizer and lime to the entire lawn. Fertilizer should be put on a week or 10 days after the last treatment with weed killers. Apply 20 pounds of a fertilizer with a 10-10-10 or similar analysis to each 1,000 sq. ft. Lime is also best applied now. But if you don't have time to have your soil tested for acidity before seeding, you can do it later and then apply the necessary lime.

Rake the lawn surface thoroughly to loosen the upper crust of soil and tear up the mat of dried grass. If the area is large, it may be better to use a spike disk than a rake. Raking or disking will not harm established grass.

Smooth the lawn and fill in the low places with fine top soil. Where you need only about an inch of soil, raking will allow the blades of established grass to come through without being smothered.

Seed with a mixture that is adapted to your soil and other conditions. Sow at one-half the rate recommended for a new lawn. The seed will make good contact with the soil if you mix it with soil before seeding.

Roll after seeding to help smooth the surface and firm the seed into the soil. Water immediately after rolling. Use only enough water to moisten the upper inch of soil. When the soil is dry, water once a day until 2 weeks after the seed germinates. Then water less often, but use more water each time. You will usually not need to water after the middle of October.

Mow the lawn when the old grass reaches a height of 2 1/2 inches, regardless of the height of the new grass.

For further information write me for a copy of Circular 729 "How to Have an Attractive Lawn." It is free for the asking.
